ASTUTE WATTERSON.

He is Reported as on the Fence in the Cleveland Fight in Kentucky and will Go with the Popular Tide.

New York, May 20.—A Kentucky Demo-crat, at present in the city, who is upon terms of intimacy with Col. Watterson, said yesterday that the distinguished editor came here in order to escape the Kentucky state Democratic convention which wa held the other day. Col. Watterson for the last few weeks supposed there would be a row in the state convention between the Cleveland and the arti-Cleveland men and he did not want to be mixed up in it.
The colonel thinks that as a member of the Democratic national committee he had best avoid state politics. He is ambitious to be regarded only as a national character and to retain his place on the national committee He desires to lead the Kentucky Democracy in a national way by continuing his place as of the Sunset oil commany from New Or-leans, I.a., came in last night, visited their well to-day and expressed their delight with the prospect. They say unquestionably that this is a fine oil field, and they think both factions of the Kentucky Democracy, and if an emergency arises when the deligates to the next national convention are gates to the next national convention are elected, to side with the most powerful faction. Besides, Col. Watterson does not care to champion Cleveland's cause, nor is he in a position to oppose him. If it is a question of Cleveland or Hill, he is for Cleveland, otherwise he would prefer a Western candidate like William R. Morrison of Illinois. Now that the Kentucky convention is over he will soon return home

Rather Ridiculous. Marshall Star.

It is rather ridiculous for the papers opposed to a railroad commission to complain that the commission does not organize at once and go to work. If we are to believe them, the country is suffering from the delay. Sensible people, hewever, will take a different view of the matter, and favor careful, deliberate action. The commission is fortunately composed of a set of men that cannot be bullied, confused or hurried.

BRUTALITY OF THE GUARDS.

Weak Women Made to Wield the Pick and Shovel, Mercilessly Flogged if Unequal to Their Tasks-An "Investigation."

Special to the Gazette. LONDON, May 23.-Wednesday will be a red-letter day in the life of the ezar, if the official programmes are carried out. Whether the Nihilists have a programme of their own that may interfere with the cere monies is a matter of guess work, but the Russian police think they have, and are taking precautions accordingly. Wednesday will be the tenth anniversary of the crown-ing of the czar, and it is proposed on that day to lay the foundation stone of a memo-rial to the late, empany, now in source of rial to the late emperor, now in course of erection, on the bank of the Moscow river, within the Kremlin. The splendid ceremo-nial will receive additional eclat from the presence of a number of French officers be longing to the naval squadron in the Baltic

Russia's strengthening of her fleet and army goes on, irrespective of the financial stir. Vichnegeradski and Rothschilds have sur. Vicinic grantski and Rothschilds have excited Europe. fast as French factories can turn them out.

The czarowitch, now fully recovered from the blow of the Japanese assassin, is to go through the course mapped out when he started from Russia. The Urnssy railway, the most remote section of the proposed branch of the Siberian railway, has been nearly cannifed three miles from Vasdostik and completed three miles from Vasdostik, and the exarcytich will ride over it for that distance in a train specially equipped for his use, and will formally inaugurate the line. The railway so far is chiefly the product of convict labor, and largely that of women convicts, who are pushed to work by hently saverity on the part of the by brutal severity on the part of the guards. A letter from Thiozo, Japan, giving the story of a prisoner who recently escaped from Siberia, says that the women who are made to dig and remove earth on this line are already perishing by scores. They are selected for work without any regard to manual experience, political prison-ers, some of them women of delicate training, being driven by violence to the use of the pick and shovel. If they show weakness they are mercilessly whipped. Women arriving in Eastern Siberian convict gangs are entirely at the mercy of the guards, and those who refuse to submit to anything required of them are detailed to work on the railway. This generally means death in a short time. It is likely these matters will be carefully covered during the journey of the czarovitch, although to make pretense of official liberality a few specially favored convicts will be permitted to present addresses and petitions for to present addresses and petitions for pardon. The exarc vitch will also go through the form of examining the official side of Siberian convict existence, which for several months past has been undergoing polish favorable for his inspection. One reason for this is that he may be able to make a favorable report to his mother, who is said to be very much touched by frequent tories of Siberian cruelties.

HARVEST.

THREE PROBLEMS CONFRONT-ING THE PANHANDLE.

More Labor, Money to Move the Crop and Transportation Facilities of Great Interest to the Wheat Belt.

A reporter vesterday met Mr. J. A. Dix of Kansas City, who has just returned from a trip by private conveyance through th Panhandle. In response to an inquiry as to what he thought of the outlook, he said: The wheat crop is safe. The weather is exactly what is desired and could not have been ordered better. I rode for miles miles, and notwithstanding the fact that I have farmed a good portion of my life, and have been through Nebraska and Dakota, I never saw so much wheat before. The whole country is a field of waving wheat and the farmers are exuberant. But there are there problems in moving that crop, which, unless settled speedily, may block trasportation and prevent the farmers from securing a good price for their grain. The re as follows:

1. The labor question. Already the farmers are beginning to get the'r threshers in working order, and the question of labor will soon be staring these people in the face. Many of them do not understand the situation, and in two or three weeks they will have a tremendous crop of wheat in their fields and no labor to harvest it. In fact, for the next three weeks the newspa-pers should point to the Panhandle as the field for unemployed labor, and every effort should be made to fill that section with la overs.

2. Where will the money come from to move the crop? Of course these farmer will be unable to market their crop, and the local banks must furnish the money. It is absolutely necessary that the business men of that section take some kind of steps (and do so immediately) to get enough money from the East to handle this grain, and it will take something like $100,000,000 to do this.

3. Transportation—The only railroad in that section is the Fort Worth and Denver, and it must make arrangements to handle the traffic with dispatch. If every man in the Panhandle would move out of his house and if every building should be turned into a granary there would not be adequate storage for the wheat. In order to reap the benefits of the present high price of wheat, before the Nebraska and Dakota yields is thrown on the market, the Panhandle farm-ers must ship their wheat to the creat ers must ship their wheat to the great markets as soon as it is threshed. In order to do this and in order to prevent the wheat from wasting for lack of storage, the For Worth and Denver road must have cars a every station in order that the farmers can haul the wheat from the fields to the train immediately after threshing. If the wheat should pass through the "sweat" in the fields, where it will be forced to remain until it can be put into cars, the loss will be tremendous and the farmers will suffer.

with these three problems successfully solved in the interest of the farmers, the Prnhandle of Texas will be the most prosperous country under the sun. A amount of money will be in circulation and the farmers will grow wealthy and prog-perous. The Weekly GAZETT to be had Gentlemen.—I subscribed for your weekly and sent it North, where I thought it would do the most good, and received one of your Dictionaries. I am much pleased with the book and consider it worth just as much to the student as the original $12 book. Think I shall subscribe and obtain "Shakespeare." Resp.

HERO, Thy, Each, 19, 1891.

Gents—My paper and Dictionary came to hand in due time and in good order. The Webster's Dictionary certainly is all, and even more than is claimed for it. It is worth more than the cost of both. I regard The GAZETTE as one of the most appreciable presents, conservations in views, kind towards the world of mankind, interesting, entertaining newsy, and none the less so on account of an occasional pleasantry. Success to The GAZETTE With legards I am yours truly.
